

Topology, neuroscience and learning

Daniela Egas Santander, EPFL

I will present some of the applications of topology and topological data analysis to neuroscience through an exploration of the collaboration between the applied topology group at EPFL and the Blue Brain Project. In particular, if time permits I will describe how we are using topology to further understand learning.